

Research funded by the Marianne and Marcus Wallenberg Foundation must be published with open access, that is, published articles must be archived in openly searchable databases. The additional cost for this can be taken up as a direct cost in project applications.

Other

Direct applications to the Foundation concerning travels, conference fees etc. will not be accepted. No grants for individual education are awarded, except for the Foundation's stipend programs. Grants for reconstruction of buildings or interior design or publishing are normally not accepted. Grants are only awarded to non-profit organizations.

Current calls

1 deadline for applications
April 2021

Project grants

The Foundation mainly funds research projects of high scientific potential related to the social sciences.

The application period begins March 1.

Requisitions

Please observe the following for requisitions:

- Remuneration is for actual costs incurred. Advances are granted only in exceptional cases.
- In requisitions, consideration must always be given to budget, grant letter, and special conditions
- A Profit & Loss statement (P&L) for the project from the accounting system for the project must always be enclosed
- The balancing requisition form must be completed and enclosed
- In connection with the final requisitioning, a financial summary of the entire grant must be appended.

Note that the grant recipient always has full responsibility as employer as well as responsibility for any scholarships awarded.

Funds may only be used for the purpose stated in the grant letter. Administrative costs or additional costs for unspecified purposes may not be offset against the grant.

By using this site, you accept the use of cookies. We do not store any personal data. The utilization period for the grant is stated in the grant letter. Prolongation will be accepted only in exceptional circumstances, and only upon written request. You can delete cookies through settings in your browser.

Any funds remaining undisbursed upon maturity of the grant period will automatically revert to the Foundation.

Disbursement

Disbursement requisitions received by the Foundation prior to the 10th day of each month are paid out at the end of that month, provided the requisition is correct.

Requisitions are to be sent by ordinary mail to the address below.

Reporting

Funded projects must be started on January 1 or July 1 of the year following the date of the decision. If this is not feasible, the Foundation must be informed in writing and a new projected starting date be assigned.

Financial reporting is to be done in conjunction with the requisitioning of funds. Furthermore, in connection with the final requisitioning, a financial summary of the entire grant must be appended. The Foundation reserves the right to review the project with the purpose of controlling that the funds have been used to the approved purpose.

In accordance with the conditions in the grant letter and without notice, a scientific report must be submitted to the Foundation along with, where appropriate, a list of scientific publications that mention the support provided by the Foundation.

All reports are to be submitted via e-mail to mmw@wfab.se.

The reporting requirement also applies to equipment projects and must contain information about the placement and level of utilization of the equipment as well as the names of the investigators who are its principal users.

Scientific publications where access to the equipment has played a central role in the execution of the research project must be listed. If the equipment is moved, the Foundation must be informed.
